

Phil Moore
Minister of Music & Media
Bio

Phil was the son of foreign missionaries, Billy Bob and Aletha Moore. In his younger years he lived in East Africa and on the island of Trinidad. When living in the United States, his family resided in Beaumont, Texas. Phil came to know the Lord at an early age and strived to understand the Christian walk in a deeper way as he grew older.

Phil attended Howard Payne University in Brownwood, Texas and graduated in 1981 with a Bachelor degree in Music Education. While attending Howard Payne, he met Kelly Waggoner. In March 1981, Phil and Kelly married. They have two daughters, Lauren and Alyssa.

After graduation, Phil taught in public schools as a band director. He taught 7 years in Jacksboro, Texas, and 1 year in Glen Rose, Texas. While teaching, Phil was very active in his church. He was a deacon, a Sunday School teacher, and a choir member. While in Jacksboro, Phil served as the interim music minister when the church was without a minister. In Glen Rose, Phil served as part time music minister at First Baptist Church. While in Glen Rose, Phil felt God calling him to full time ministry. He accepted the call to First Baptist Church, Alvarado, Texas as Music and Youth Minister. While there, Phil began working on his Master's of Music degree at Southwestern Seminary. He completed this degree in 1994. Phil has also served at First Baptist Church, Waxahachie, Texas, Southland Baptist Church, San Angelo, Texas, and First Baptist Church in Dumas, Texas.

In his spare time, Phil enjoys camping with his family, playing racquetball, playing golf, and doing home improvement projects.
